The withdrawal date is when Sarum College receives formal notification of withdrawal by the validating university.

6. Withdrawal of Course

While the College endeavours to run all advertised courses, it may occasionally be necessary to withdraw a programme of study. If this happens you will be notified at least one month before the start of the course and your £125 deposit will be refunded.

7. Extension to Period of Study

Students who withdraw from the course mid studies may appeal for their outstanding fees as described above to be repealed. An appeal form is available from the course administrator. The appeal will be initiated by the receipt of the form by the course administrator.

8. Audit Fees

Students may attend modules in addition to those which they are studying for credit, by permission of the Programme Leader. The hospitality rates will be the usual student rates which are currently £237 (en-suite), £194 (standard) and £56 (non-residential), with an added educational fee of £125 per booking. Please note that students must give clear information on whether they are attending modules as part of their accredited study in advance of attendance. Should the module be oversubscribed, preference will be given to students taking the module for credit.

Note: all hospitality fees and prices are reviewed at the beginning of July each year.

9. Hospitality

The fee does not include meals or accommodation, for which a separate charge is made in advance of any module and payable no later than two weeks before the start of the module. The College regrets that it cannot refund meals or accommodation not taken up. Hospitality is also charged on a pro-rata basis for other periods in College e.g. dissertation training events.

Books may need to be purchased and the student must have access to, and be able to use, computer equipment (e.g. a PC/Mac and Microsoft Word software) as well as being able to regularly access the Internet. In addition, the requirements of submitting the dissertation involves printing and binding hard-copies (two) of the dissertation, for which there will be a fee payable direct to the binding company (as sourced by the student independently). Some modules have additional charges for supplementary resources or trips e.g. the MA in Christian Approaches to Leadership programme has an added fee of approximately £100 for the personality questionnaire exercise during the Personal Development optional module, which is to be paid before the start of that module, if selected. Where there is an additional fee, this will be specified in the module descriptor.
